Dear authors,

we have the following recommendation about your submission to ICoSTEC2023 entitled

"Combination of Pre-Trained CNN Model and Machine Learning Algorithm on Pekalongan Batik Motif Classification"

To improve your paper's quality to fit the article requirement at the ICoSTEC conferences, the author(s) should revise the paper in the following :

1. Authors should improve the abstract presentation and display the background, method, and result in the abstract description.
2. As we know, KNN is a very common method in machine learning in classification problems. Authors should improve the manuscript by providing why the KNN with Euclidian and Manhattan can be a promising approach to deal with the issues.
3. Inception V3 and KNN can be a solution to classify images dataset. However, the authors should present the neural network architecture in Chapter 3 to support the method explanation. Are there any influences on the NN performance if the study tunes different hyper-parameters? It should be explained in depth.
4. In Chapter 1, this manuscript needs to be more detailed with the most updated paper and show the state of the art of KNN in dealing with the problem.
5. Add more references by adding several most updated papers to the manuscript and improving the reference list.

Please re-submit the revised version soon.

Best regards,
ICoSTEC 2023 Scientific Committee
